

Letter from Georg Bredig to Max Bredig, February 16, 1937

Bredig, Georg. "Letter from Georg Bredig to Max Bredig, February 16, 1937," February 16, 1937. Papers of Georg and Max Bredig, Box 7, Folder 13. Science History Institute. Philadelphia. <https://digital.sciencehistory.org/works/yf4az1x>.

Courtesy of the Science History Institute, prepared March 15, 2025 12:07 UTC

Translated by Jocelyn R. McDaniel

English Translation

16 February 1937

Mx #9

Dear Max Albert,

Please send your laundry here as soon as possible. Mrs. Cotiaux, who says hello, is doing laundry on the 22nd of this month.

Today, enclosed with this letter, is an excellent article on catalysis (compare pg. 56) from Alwin Mittasch, who sent it to me just for you. Please write him a thank you note. His address is Quinckestr. 41, Heidelberg.

Please note down the enclosed Japanese address on your list. Mr. Phihage recently sent me a small book on ancient alchemy in the Orient. It mostly discusses old Chinese and Japanese Blacksmithing (mirrors and mirrors).

Otherwise, there is nothing new to report. In Baden-Baden, entry to spas and spa treatments is barred for Jews. Supposedly, the sale of the newspaper "Münchener Mittleren Nachrichten" is also forbidden. On the 18th, Max Guttau from Berlin will visit me for four hours in the morning on his way to Palestine.

What do you think about Marianne? How long should she stay in Berlin? How are you? Anything new? Should I write to Berl, Fajans, and my other contacts eventually?

Warm regards,
Father